

Crash on the Levee (Down in the Flood)

Written by: Bob Dylan

[A] Crash on the levee, mama

[A] Water's gonna overflow [A7]

[D] Swamp's gonna rise

[D] No boat's gonna [A] row

[A] Now, you can train on down

[A] To Williams Point

[A] You can bust your feet

[A] You can rock this [A7] joint

But [D] oh mama, ain't you gonna miss your best [A] friend now?

You're gonna [E7] have to find yourself

[D] Another best friend, [A] somehow

[A] Now, don't you try an' move me

[A] You're just gonna lose [A7]

There's a [D] crash on the levee

[D] And mama you've been [A] refused

Well, it's [A] sugar for sugar

And [A] salt for salt

If you go [A] down in the flood

It's gonna [A7] be your own fault

[D] Oh mama, ain't you gonna [D] miss your best [A] friend now?

[A] You're gonna [E7] have to find yourself

Another best friend, some [A] how

Well, that [A] high tide's risin'

[A] Mama, don't you let me down [A7]

[D] Pack up your suitcase

[D] Mama, don't you make [A] a sound [A7]

Now, it's [A7] king for king

[A7] Queen for queen

[A7] It's gonna be the meanest flood

[A7] That anybody's seen

[D] Oh mama, ain't you gonna miss your best [A] friend now?

Yes, you're gonna [E7] have to find yourself

[D] Another best friend, [A] somehow (strum A a couple of times at the end)
