Key of G

Limpia Hotel

Lyrics & Music: Kevin Russell aka Shinyribs (2014)

```
G
          Em
              C
All of my shame fades away
       Em C
In the cool end of the day
          Em
                                          C
All of my trials disappear with the miles
And I wake up with west Texas in my eyes
Verse 3
                                   D7
There's flies in my hair, there's flies on my eyes
Flies everywhere, there's even flies on the flies
                                               C
G
                                  G7
                                                        Cm
That's what happens in the desert soon as the sun rises
That hound dog ain't surprised
And the kid, he cries
'Cause the pool is too cold
Chorus and outro
               C
G
          Em
All of my shame fades away
       Em C
In the cool end of the day
          Em
All of my trials disappear with the miles
                                         Cm
And I wake up with west Texas in my eyes
                                         Cm G
And I wake up with west Texas in my eyes
