

Sushi Song ("Sukiyaki" parody)

Key of G

1963 hit by Rokusuke Ei, Hachidai Nakamura. Parody lyrics by Pat Dononhue

Intro

G// C// Bm// Am//
G// C// Bm// Am//

G I am from Em Minnesota;
G I went to Em Tokyo to
G Visit the Bm Land of EnEmchantment and D quaint pagodas.
G I almost Am died C the night they B7 tried
G To C make me Bm eat that Am yucky G sushi.
C// Bm// Am//

G They think it Em sounds so yummy,
G But, hey, I Em ain't no dummy,
G I knew no Bm way it would Em stay down D in my tummy.
G I took one Am bite, C and I was B7 right,
G No C likey Bm icky Am yucky G sushi.

C// Bm// Am/ G//// G7////

C It took some wine, but I G finally aG7reed
Cm To eat that dish of G dead fish A7 and seaD7weed.

G What happened Em then I don't know,
G I loosened Em my kimono,
G I make a Bm noise like the Em voice of D Yoko Ono.
G Then just like Am that, C right on the B7 mat,
G Me C sicky Bm icky Am yucky G sushi.
C// Bm// Am// G//// G7////

C Don't eat raw squid, like I G did, 'cause it's G7 true,
Cm It make you do like G when you A7 got the D7 flu.

G So if you're Em in Nagoya,
G Here's a sugEmgestion for ya,
G Take my adBmvice, stick with Em rice, and think D twice before ya
G Bow in disAmgrace, C lose lunch and B7 face,
G No C picky Bm icky Am yucky G sushi.
C// Bm// Am//

G No C likey Bm icky Am yucky G sushi.